High Definition Render Pipeline Setup

Some settings require a 'Volume Profile' reference to work in HDRP. You can assign a profile on a settings collection or on a per setting basis. If a shared reference is assigned all settings that require a profile will use it. If left empty a profile needs to be referenced on most HDRP related settings for them to function.